

Name of student: Christopher M. Panoy

Inclusive dates: Oct 26, 2025

| DATE, DAY, TIME, COURSE, YEAR, SECTION & Gospel | MEANS OF VERIFICATION |
|--|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• October 26, 2025• Sunday• 5:30 – 6:35 P.M• BSIS 4A• Luke 18:9-14 |  This Gospel reminds me that God does not look at how perfect I appear, but at how honest and humble my heart is. Like the tax collector, I come before Him acknowledging my weaknesses, my failures, and my need for His mercy, trusting that He receives me with compassion rather than judgment. It teaches me not to compare myself with others or rely on my own goodness, but to seek God with truth and humility, knowing that He lifts up those who open their hearts to Him. In this simple yet powerful message, I find confidence—not in myself, but in God’s faithful love that embraces the sincere and transforms the humble. |

- November 2, 2025
- Sunday
- 5:00 – 6:15 P/M
- BSIS 4A
- John 6:37-40

This Gospel assures me that I am deeply wanted and fully accepted by God, for Jesus says that anyone who comes to Him will never be rejected. It reminds me that my life is held securely in God's hands, not because of my strength but because of His unchanging love and promise. Even when I feel weak, unworthy, or lost, Jesus invites me to come to Him with trust, confident that He will embrace me and never let me go. In this promise, I find peace and hope, knowing that God's will is for me to have life—real, lasting, eternal—and that He will never abandon the heart that sincerely seeks Him.

- November 9, 2025
- Sunday
- 7:00 – 8:15 AM
- BSIS 4A
- John 2:13-22

This Gospel reminds that Jesus cares deeply about the purity of my heart, just as He cared for the holiness of the temple. When He cleared out everything that did not belong in His Father's house, He showed that true worship requires honesty, reverence, and a heart free from distractions. In the same way, He gently challenges me to let go of the attitudes, habits, and sins that clutter my life and keep me from fully loving God. Even when His correction feels uncomfortable, I trust that it comes from His desire to restore me and make me whole. Through His risen life, He teaches me that real transformation begins within,

| | |
|--|---|
| | and that my heart—when surrendered to Him—can become a place where God truly dwells. |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • November 16, 2025 • Sunday • 7:00 – 8:15 AM • BSIS 4A • Luke 21:5-19 |  This Gospel reminds that no matter how unstable or frightening life may feel, God remains my unshakable foundation. Jesus warns that trials, conflicts, and uncertainties will come, but He also assures me that I do not face them alone—His strength becomes my courage, and His presence becomes my peace. Even when everything around me seems to fall apart, I can stand firm because God is faithful and never abandons those who trust in Him. This passage teaches me that endurance is not about being strong on my own, but about holding on to God with a steady and faithful heart. In every challenge, He is shaping me, protecting me, and leading me to a hope that no suffering can ever destroy. |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • November 23, 2025 • Sunday • 7:00 – 8:15 AM • BSIS 4A • Luke 21:5-19 |  |

| | |
|--|---|
| | This Gospel moves deeply because it shows the incredible mercy of Jesus even in His final moments on the cross. While others mocked Him, the repentant thief turned to Jesus with honesty and hope, and Jesus responded not with judgment but with a promise of paradise. It reminds me that no matter how broken, late, or unworthy I may feel, God's mercy is always greater and always available. Jesus sees beyond my failures and looks straight into my heart, welcoming every sincere cry for forgiveness. In this moment of love and compassion, I am reminded that salvation is not earned by perfection but received through humble trust in Christ, who never turns away anyone who reaches out to Him. |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • November 30, 2025 • Sunday • 6:00 – 7:15 AM • BSIS 4A • Matthew 24:37-44 |  This Gospel reminds to live each day with a heart that is awake, ready, and faithful, because the Lord comes at a moment I do not expect. Just as people in Noah's time were busy with ordinary life and never noticed the danger until it was too late, I am gently warned not to let distractions, routines, or worries blind me to what truly matters. Jesus calls me to spiritual readiness—not through fear, but through love, integrity, and a life that reflects His presence. This passage invites me to stay close to God, to choose what is right even in small things, and to live with purpose and sincerity. In staying watchful, I find confidence and peace, knowing that whenever the Lord comes, He will find my heart open, faithful, and longing for Him. |

- December 7, 2025,
- Sunday
- 7:50-6:00 PM,
- BSIS 4-A
- Matthew 3: 1-12

This Gospel, proclaimed on December 7 my 22th birthday becomes a personal reminder that God calls you to renewal, growth, and deeper purpose. Just as John the Baptist prepared the way for the Lord by inviting people to repentance and transformation, this day invites you to reflect on your own journey and welcome God more fully into your life. It becomes more than just a date; it becomes a spiritual milestone, reminding you that your life has meaning, direction, and a calling uniquely shaped by God. On your birthday, this message feels especially intimate: God is not only inviting the world to prepare a way for Him, but inviting you personally to let your heart be renewed, your spirit strengthened, and your life aligned with His love. As John proclaimed a new beginning, this Gospel becomes your own beginning too, a reminder that every year of your life is a chance to grow, to deepen your faith, and to become the person God lovingly created you to be.

Prepared by:

Christopher M. Panoy

Submitted to:

PROF. JOEL C. DELA CRUZ

SANTA RITA COLLEGE
OF PAMPANGA

San Jose, Sta. Rita, Pampanga

✉ src_educ_ph@yahoo.com.ph ☎ (045)900-0557

Professor

Investment in Quality Education Need Not be Expensive

“Altiora Peto